Biography

Martha Love has been a long time community activist, political organizer Labor leader in Milwaukee County for over 37 years. Love was an AFSCME Union representative who fought hard to ensure equal treatment of the working poor and woman.

Love's experience is extensive and ranges from being past chairman of the State & county Democratic party, sitting on many community and national boards, Love is currently the owner of a Community Relations Outreach Business.

Love's goals are to continue fighting for justice as one of Milwaukee's Black history makers. Her extensive activities have provided her the opportunity to make great strides toward her goals for the community.

Love is working on a campaign for justice to help protect our children thru her Television program "What Going On" a public Access Television series. The major community issue in the state of Wisconsin is Human Trafficking among our youth between the ages of 11-14 years. Love has created the awareness for our community as to the epidemic of sex trafficking.

Love's has a great deal of respect for Milwaukee County although retired Love will continue to work diligently to have an impact on the community.
