50 WOMEN OF THE ARTS COMMITTEE

THE WOMEN OF MILWAUKEE HAVE STEPPED UP TO LEAD IN THE CELEBRATION OF THE MARCUS CENTER'S HISTORY

In preparation for the anniversary celebration, female leaders in Milwaukee have given their time to celebrate the history of the Marcus Center. The 50 Women of the Arts and Future Women of the Arts will gather together at the Marcus Center on October 30, 2019 for the Center's 50th Anniversary Celebration raising funds for local arts education programs.

These female arts advocates will act as ambassadors during the block party and HAMILTON performance that will bring together 1,500 community members for Milwaukee's largest celebration of the arts.

- o Mary Ellen Stanek, Managing Director & Chief Investment Officer for Baird
- o Patricia Contreras, Director, Global Community Relations & Contributions, Rockwell Automation

GREETINGS!

THE 50TH ANNIVERSARY SEASON AT THE MARCUS CENTER IS UPON US AND TO CELEBRATE, WE ARE BRINGING THE VERY BEST OF BROADWAY TO MILWAUKEE!

Next month, we will host our 50th Anniversary Celebration as a fundraiser for local arts education with the goal of bringing 1,500 community members together to celebrate at a block party followed by a performance of HAMILTON! The funds raised will benefit the Marcus Center's mission as a nonprofit organization serving 20,000 youth annually through our community engagement, education and inclusion programs. Our thanks go to our 50 Women of the Arts & Future Women of the Arts for championing this event!

We just wrapped up our free summer programming series, Live at Peck Pavilion, with more than 100 free, spectacular events! The effort to bring the arts out to the community began with the long-standing Rainbow Summer and has developed into an amazing lineup of local artists on our stage.

This year, we were privileged to share our own vision for the future of the Marcus Center that will ensure the cultural, educational and economic vitality of the community. The strategic focus of this vision is mission-based, and to increase our diversity and inclusion programs for the community. It will prepare the Center for the next 50 years, and we invite you as business leaders to join us on that journey.

Leading the Marcus Center for the past two decades has been an incredible honor. Thanks to our many supporters, committed Board and unmatched staff, the Marcus Center celebrates its 50th Anniversary stronger than ever. It is an exciting time for the Marcus Center, and for Milwaukee, and I look forward to passing the baton at the end of 2019 to new leadership as the organization begins its next 50 years of service to our community.

50 YEARS OF HIGHLIGHTS AT THE MARCUS PERFORMING ARTS CENTER

SOMETHING FOR EVERYONE AT ANY AGE

Established in 1969, the Marcus Performing Arts Center is the premier performing arts venue in Southeastern Wisconsin. As the Marcus Center celebrates its fiftieth year, it continues to build bridges between diverse members of the community through high-quality arts entertainment in the region and the state, with a variety of important community and family events throughout the year.

In hosting everything from Broadway to children's theater to symphony to opera to dance and pop music guests, the PAC offers something for every age and arts preference.

Connections to local performing arts groups at the Marcus Center have grown and developed over the years. The Marcus Center is also the home to the Milwaukee Symphony, Milwaukee Ballet, Florentine Opera, and First Stage Children's Theater.

The building is an architectural award-winning community gathering space that includes Uihlein Hall, Wilson Theater at Vogel Hall, The Bradley Pavilion, Todd Wehr Theater, Peck Pavilion, and public reception and meeting spaces.

RESIDENT PARTNERSHIPS THAT HAVE DEVELOPED OVER THE YEARS

- Black Arts MKE
- Bronzeville Arts Ensemble
- First Stage
- Florentine Opera
- Milwaukee Ballet
- Milwaukee Symphony Orchestra
- Milwaukee Youth Symphony Orchestra
- Optimist Shakespeare Theatre
- Water Street Dance Company
- Milwaukee Repertory Theater
- Chicago Symphony
- Hansberry-Sands Theatre Company
- United Performing Arts Fund (UPAF)

The Arts Connect program offers high school mentoring and workshops with visiting artists. KidZ Days at the Center and KidZ Days in the City are free performances for daycare and schoolage children both at the Marcus Center and at 25 local community centers. Family Nights at the Center brings underserved audiences in the community to their first Broadway play. And Opening Our Doors serves local Employee Resource Groups.

Marcus Center outreach programs welcome the community through its doors to experience enrichment and entertainment as well as fellowship in the arts. As the PAC celebrates its fiftieth anniversary and looks to the future, the vision is to continue to develop innovative community programs that allow for everyone in Milwaukee to see themselves at the Marcus Center. ☺

SINCE 1969 WE HAVE BEEN PROUD TO HAVE THE MARCUS CENTER AS PART OF MILWAUKEE COUNTY'S WAR MEMORIAL HONORING THOSE WHO HAVE BRAVELY SERVED OUR COUNTRY.

CANTOS DE LAS AMERICAS

Marcus Center also hosts Cantos de las Americas in affiliation with Milwaukee Public School (MPS)'s Division of Bilingual and Multicultural Education and MPS School Social Work. Cantos De Las Americas, an annual concert celebration, honors the varied cultures that are represented by the students of Milwaukee Public Schools. The concert features students from fifteen schools performing traditional songs and dances from Africa, the Caribbean, Latin America and Europe, in addition to the Hmong and Laotian cultures. This event pays respects to the diverse cultural heritages of our community while educating the public in a festive and vibrant way.

FREE PERFORMANCES FOR THE PUBLIC

The Marcus Center was a trendsetter in Milwaukee as one of the first venues to offer free outdoor programming in the summer. Live at Peck Pavilion is a series that brings activity outside to the beautiful Peck Pavilion alongside the Milwaukee River on the Marcus Performing Arts Center grounds. The focus of the series is to bring activity to the outdoor spaces of the Marcus Center grounds with performances that are engaging, intriguing and world-class.

Some of the events include live concerts, the Peck Flicks family movie series, The Milwaukee Fringe Festival, the TRUE Skool Block Party, a celebration of hip hop culture, and DANCE MKE, a four-week dance competition featuring Milwaukee dance artists from ANY discipline. The Marcus Center also participated in Doors Open Milwaukee, which allowed the entire community to enter and tour the Marcus Center for free.

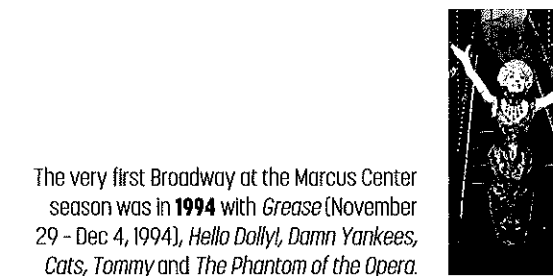

"Pajama Jamborees" are free pops concerts where the Marcus Center welcomes children and their families to the Bradley Pavilion. Guests are encouraged to attend in casual dress or pajamas, and they can bring a blanket and sit up close to "meet" the orchestra.

ARTS EDUCATION FOR STUDENTS AND COMMUNITY MEMBERS

The Marcus Center also serves 20,000 youth in Milwaukee annually with free arts education programming. Outreach programs have components for students of all ages, from daycare and school age to high school as well as adults in the workplace.

Construction on what became the Marcus Center began with Chicago architect Harry Weese's blueprints in June 1966. Plans called for a major music hall, a thrust stage auditorium for live theater, and a recital hall. Milwaukee County agreed to establish two parks in conjunction with the new center, Red Arrow to the east and Pere Marquette to the west. The boat landing on the Milwaukee River was the precursor to the current RiverWalk.

The very first Broadway at the Marcus Center season was in 1994 with Grease (November 29 - Dec 4, 1994), Hello Dolly!, Damn Yankees, Cats, Tommy and The Phantom of the Opera.

TIMELINE

Plans began as early as 1945 for a war memorial to provide for "art, music, drama, public discussion and social assembly."

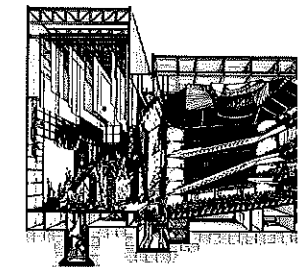

The Performing Arts Center, as it was known until a decade ago, officially opened Sept. 17, 1969, at a price of $12.7 million. The gala opening included the Milwaukee Symphony, Donizetti's opera Lucia di Lammermoor and guest appearances by stars of the American Ballet Theatre. Touring acts during the first month of operation included the New York Philharmonic, Duke Ellington, National Ballet of Canada, Hildegard and Louis Armstrong.

1966

1970

The Center was bestowed the prestigious Honor Award for Excellence in Architectural Design from the American Institute of Architects in 1970.

1983

In 1983, the Center hosted the largest gathering of clowns and mimes ever assembled in the United States with the Rainbow Summer Mime & Clown Festival.

Illumination of the building began on April 16, 2008. Some of the "light paintings" are modeled after Georgia O'Keefe paintings.

“The Marcus Center has been a part of my life since I was a teenager. Having been born and raised in Milwaukee, I saw my first symphony on a date when I was 16. Ever since, I have enjoyed many shows, concerts and plays at the Marcus Center, and I feel that it is an integral and vibrant part of the southeastern Wisconsin arts scene.

There are so many memorable moments to recount. From the annual galas, to weddings that I have attended at the facility, to the Nutcracker that I took my daughter to every year, to Broadway plays! They have all created many, many wonderful memories.

The arts make a city much more vibrant, culturally stimulating and a destination for tourism. It is very important to me that the Marcus Center continues to thrive and be available for our entire community for many years to come. I am so excited about the building and campus enhancements that are being planned. I am also very excited about the new opportunities being created for additional unique and excited shows, concerts and performances that will be coming to the PAC over the coming years.”

MARCUS CENTER: A HUB OF ENGAGEMENT

COMMUNITY OUTREACH, EVENTS, AND EDUCATION ARE KEY GOALS FOR THE MARCUS PERFORMING ARTS CENTER.

The Marcus Performing Arts Center provides opportunities to entertain as well as to educate and engage audiences in Milwaukee. This includes its functions as stage for music and theater, along with the celebrations and outdoor programming that makes its vibrant offerings available to all members of the public.

MILWAUKEE COUNTY'S VETERANS MEMORIAL & ANNUAL FLAG DAY CELEBRATION

Plans began as early as 1945 for a war memorial to provide for “art, music, drama, public discussion and social assembly.” Since it opened in 1969, the Center has been part of the Milwaukee County's Veterans Memorial. As a war memorial, the Center honors those who have bravely served our country through the principles of art and peace.

As part of their continued commitment to honor veterans for their heroic service, the Center hosts a Flag Day Celebration each year on the Peck Pavilion Stage recognizing U.S. veterans. The U.S. Immigration Office has naturalized hundreds of new United States citizens right on the grounds following the ceremony. The program includes a presentation of colors, invocation, moment of silence and POW respect, a keynote speaker and more.

This community event is free and open to the public; no tickets or advanced reservations are needed for attendees. This very special tribute to the men and women of the military is one way the Marcus PAC and the community can “honor the dead by serving the living.” 2019 marked the tenth annual Flag Day event.

DR. MARTIN LUTHER KING JR. BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION

A Milwaukee tradition for more than three decades, the Dr.

Martin Luther King, Jr. Birthday Celebration is also an important civic commemoration. The only cities that have celebrated Dr. King's Birthday annually since 1984 are Atlanta, Georgia and Milwaukee, Wisconsin. This event has taken place for the last 35 years at the Center, and incorporates an educational

“The performing arts, in particular, have the power to draw people together and the Marcus Center's central role as a gathering place for all members of our community will only be enhanced by the upcoming transformation of its public spaces.”

partnership with Milwaukee Public Schools, serving 7,000 students.

The Birthday Celebration showcases youth in the community who every year interpret Dr. King's words through an art, speech and writing contest. In addition, various cultural arts organizations perform on the stage in Uihlein Hall. Some of the talented local arts groups presenting have included: United Indians of Milwaukee, Latino Arts Strings, Milwaukee Flyers Tumbling Team, O.N.F.Y.A.H, MPS'

BROADWAY ACROSS AMERICA COMES TO THE MARCUS CENTER FOR 2019-2020

JOHNSON FINANCIAL GROUP'S SPONSORSHIP IS SET TO LAST FOR THREE SEASONS

The very first Broadway season at the Marcus Center was in 1994, with Grease (November 29 – Dec 4, 1994), Hello Dolly!, Damn Yankees, Cats, Tommy and The Phantom of the Opera (a whopping 47 performances). Since then, 2.5 million patrons have seen a Broadway performance at the Center. With more subscribers for Broadway across the U.S. than for the NBA, we can see that the arts are thriving. In Milwaukee, too, a record number of Broadway season subscribers will enjoy first rate entertainment this year with the Broadway Across America series.

Touring Broadway events alone bring in up to 150,000 patrons to the Marcus Center each season. The touring Broadway series, Broadway Across America, is recognized as bringing the best of Broadway entertainment to Milwaukee. Johnson Financial Group's partnership as the Broadway Title sponsor will help the Marcus Center to underwrite operating and capital costs for this key community asset.

The Racine-based financial group's partnership with the downtown Milwaukee theater begins with the fiftieth anniversary 2019-2020 season. It will include the much-anticipated Milwaukee premier of Lin-Manuel Miranda's musical "Hamilton."

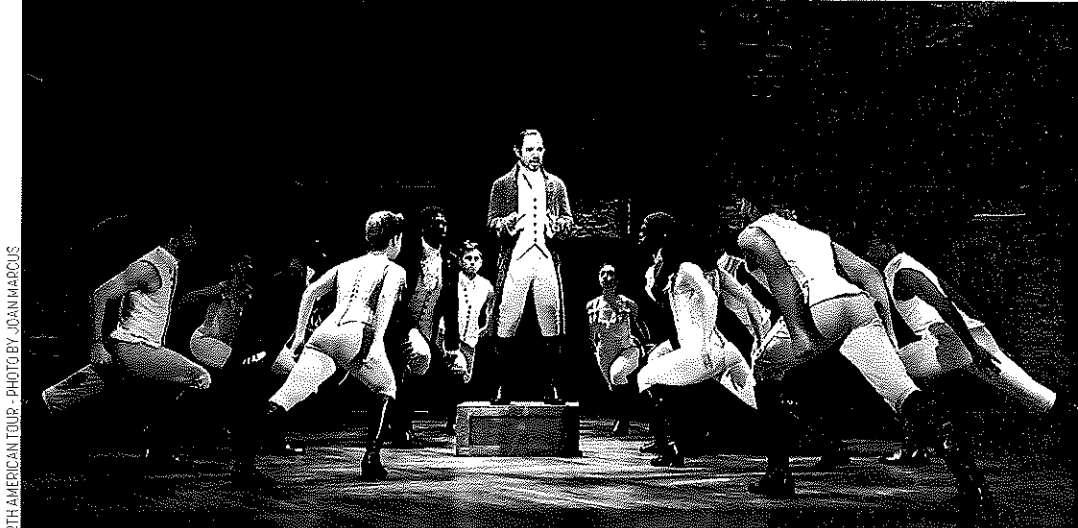

Paul Mathews, the president and CEO of the Marcus Center, said it is thrilled to partner with Johnson Financial.

"Their support of the arts and our venue is an important part of keeping the Marcus Center, and our resident partners, financially strong as we work together to welcome the entire community into our building and onto our grounds," he said.

As a non-profit organization, the Marcus Center's earned income is critical to maintaining the facility for the Center's resident partners and for enabling the Marcus Center to continue its extensive audience engagement efforts with veterans, families and the greater Milwaukee community.

Nearly 800,000 people are expected to attend various events at the Marcus Center this season, including performing arts, children's and education programs, community events, commercial presentations, business meetings, social gatherings, fundraisers and other special events.

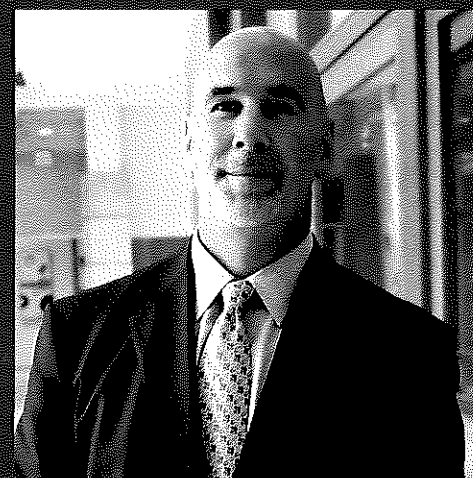

The Marcus Center continues to work on creating an open and welcoming place where all of the community can gather while adding significant economic impact to downtown Milwaukee. ☺

A WORD FROM
JAMES R. POPP,
PRESIDENT & CEO, JOHNSON FINANCIAL GROUP,
LEAD SPONSOR OF THE BROADWAY SERIES

Having a vibrant arts scene is incredibly important to any community - and especially a city that is as dynamic as Milwaukee is right now. Whether it's theatre, music, dance, museums or any other medium, art brings creativity, passion and diversity to a community.

Giving back to the communities we serve is a core value of ours at Johnson Financial Group. One of the things we like most about the Marcus Center is that through their programming, they truly have something for everyone in the community. From children's programs and school-based activities to more traditional classic performances, the PAC reaches so many people each year. Specifically, the Broadway Series has been a cornerstone of the PAC's offering that we're excited to support.

Interestingly, the Marcus Center and Johnson Financial Group will both be celebrating our 50th birthdays in 2020. So when the opportunity arose for JFG to become the lead sponsor of the Broadway Series, we made the decision in about five minutes. What better way to celebrate 50 years in Milwaukee - for both of us - than to give back to the community that has been so important to us for so long!

WE APPLAUD OUR PARTNERS AT

MC MARCUS PERFORMING ARTS CENTER

FOR REACHING THIS MILESTONE ANNIVERSARY.

CHEERS TO 50 MORE YEARS!
