

MILWAUKEE COUNTY
Department on Aging

June 10, 2019

Dear Future Evidence-Based Program Facilitator,

Do you love helping people live their healthiest lives? If so, you will get a great deal of satisfaction by becoming a program facilitator for an evidence-based program.

The Milwaukee County Department on Aging (MCDA) is offering a unique opportunity to become a trained facilitator/leader in any of the following evidence-based health promotion programs: Healthy Living with Chronic Pain, Healthy Living with Diabetes (including Spanish version: Vivir Saludable con Diabetes), Living Well with Chronic Conditions (including Spanish version: Tomando Control de Su Salud), Stepping On and Powerful Tools for Caregivers.

The Department on Aging is committed to expanding these important programs, and it will pay for your training cost as you learn how to be a program facilitator! (Please note that MCDA can only pay for the cost of your training program registration, not mileage, hotel, or other miscellaneous costs such as meals.)

The facilitator training schedule can be found at the Wisconsin Institute for Healthy Aging's website: <https://wihealthyaging.org/become-a-program-leader>. The application period for this offer is available until July 15, 2019. There are trainings happening right now so act quickly! If there is a program you are interested in but do not see a future training or dates that work for you, fill out the application and select "general interest" and you will be added to a list.

Please contact Jennifer Lefeber, Milwaukee County Evidence-Based Program Coordinator, at 414.289.6352 or Jennifer.Lefeber@milwaukeecountywi.gov with any questions.

We look forward to seeing you at a training very soon!

Sincerely,

Jon Janowski
