Recently Introduced MNT Act of 2021 Expands Access to Nutrition Care

Most Medicare beneficiaries have at least one chronic condition and more than two-thirds live with multiple chronic conditions. What they don't have is ready access to nutrition care. Studies have shown that Medical Nutrition Therapy (MNT) is a cost-effective service for treating obesity, diabetes, hypertension, dyslipidemia, HIV infection, unintended weight loss and other chronic conditions in older adults. Counseling provided by a registered dietitian nutritionist (RDN) as part of a healthcare team can positively impact weight, blood pressure, blood lipids and blood sugar control.

The Medical Nutrition Therapy Act of 2021 (S. 1536/H.R. 3108) recently introduced by Sens. Susan Collins (R-ME) and Gary Peters (D-MI) and Reps. Robin Kelly (D-IL) and Fred Upton (R-MI) would expand much needed MNT access for Medicare recipients, including:

- Expanding Medicare Part B coverage of outpatient MNT to beneficiaries with prediabetes, obesity, high blood pressure, high cholesterol, malnutrition, eating disorders, cancer, gastrointestinal diseases including celiac disease, HIV/AIDS, cardiovascular disease and any other disease or condition causing unintentional weight loss;
- Allowing nurse practitioners, physician assistants, clinical nurse specialists and psychologists to refer their patients for MNT; and
- Promoting health equity among minority communities with higher rates of nutrition-related chronic diseases.
